*Owosso High School
Owosso, Michigan*

Foreword

Time marches on just as each student marches up the stairway of education. Each step signifies the complications, problems, and joys of teenage life. With all the examinations, tests, and homework, students may find themselves stumbling up that difficult climb. But once he has taken that last step, he'll admit it was a worthwhile journey upward. The memories of dreamy music at dances, the screams of victory at the football games, and the humorous play will bring a smile to his face that seems to say, "Wish I were a freshman, so that I might start the climb again."

Administration

All the students of Owosso High School look to Mr. Blood and members of the faculty for help in planning their schedules, solving their problems, and giving them advice. Grandfather's clock has seen hundreds of students seek this aid from the Administration. The Administration has only you, the student, in mind when it enforces the school regulations which are to your advantage. Mr. Blood, Mrs. Nevius, the counselors, and the teachers help to keep this school in harmony.

Guidance

Mr. Wilson helps Gary Howe plan his schedule for next semester.

The main objectives in guidance are to aid the student in self-appraisal of his characteristics and abilities, to assist him in selecting his vocational choice of life work, and to help him in his educational planning toward his vocational goal. Group guidance is carried on in the ninth grade Orientation classes and individual guidance in the person to person conferences between the student and his counselor.

Miss Stewart, Director of Guidance, plans schedules and oversees the testing program.

Co-op gives a "new look toward the future."

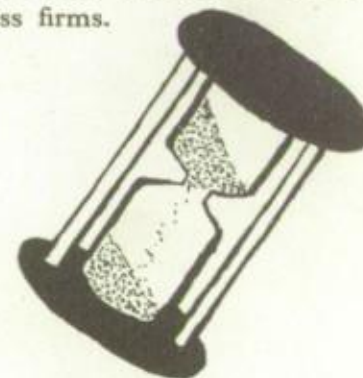

"Experience is the best teacher"—fifty-five students are taking advantage of the opportunity of earning as they are learning offered by the co-op training course. In his junior year any high school student may spend part of each day at one of the local business firms and receive high school credit, as well as pay, for work well done. Mr. Holtforth is the Advisor.

Mr. Edwards observes Raymond Buck as he paints a sign for Koegel's.

Mr. Holtforth is counseling Mike Hornus for employment at one of the business firms.

Student Council Sparks Up the School Year

The Student Council is the voice of the student body. Its members make a study of the vital interests of the students and then try to carry them out. This year the Student Council was in charge of the homecoming parade, the election of the queen, and the dance. They revised the Owosso High Hand Book to suit the needs of the students. Also, they chose the paid assemblies to be presented to the student body. Miss L. Stewart is the advisor.

Student Council Body

Row I: L. to R.—R. J. Campbell, J. Van Wormer, M. Carland, M. Cromie, N. Baumhardt, M. Haak, A. Wylie, J. Andrews, K. Hall. Row II: L. to R.—Miss Stewart, V. Russell, M. Hume, J. Hatt, B. McDonald, J. McAvoy, R. Selleck, L. Hulik, D. Bohaty, J. Nash. Row III: L. to R.—H. Burger, S. Soffin, J. McGinn, K. Stoddard, D. White, F. Wagner, B. Float, M. Bisard, P. Elkins.

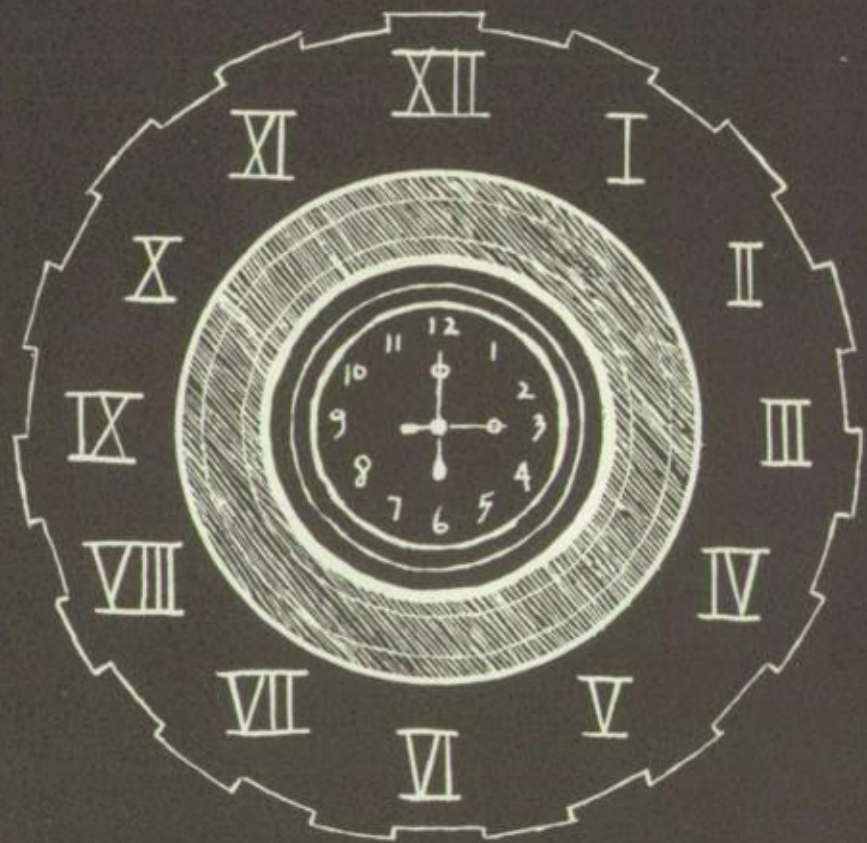

Orchids To You

Seniors

When a student becomes a Senior, he has reached the peak of his teenage life. His ideas and reasoning become more mature as the years go by. The clock in the library has marked the passage of time and has seen students study for the knowledge they desire. If the clock were human, it probably would remark that this last year in high school always goes the fastest. It, too, might hear some Senior say, "It seems as if I started high school only yesterday." Our Senior classmates and the class activities should be foremost among our treasured memories.

Seniors, having reached the peak,

The doors that were once open to us are now closed, leaving us with only memories of achievements, fun, and accomplishments, especially for this year.

This year introduced us to the serious court room drama entitled The Night of January 16. "South Pacific," our Senior Prom, was a spectacular sight with its waterfalls and jungle scenes. The Juniors put on a Junior-Senior Reception for our class that was very entertaining.

Going to Walled Lake for our Senior trip led us up to graduation time and into a new world of opportunity.

What a year this has been for excitement, thrills, and joyous events. Students were given a chance to use their talents by working on our first dramatical presentation Nuts in May, and their junior dance.

Although these events required long hours of work, they were all worth while when success was accomplished.

Underclassmen

The halls are crowded with underclassmen, who are hurrying to their classes at the sound of the bell. High school is a new experience to these students, for everyone is on his own. As each year goes by, the school halls become the pathway for students leading them on their journey through the years of high school and pointing out how essential an education is.

We started off our Sophomore year with the feeling that everything was old stuff. This was the year that enabled any girl interested in nursing to join the Future Nurses' Club. Girls who were interested in cheer leading had a chance to try out for it. The boys were working hard in sports so that they might try out for the Varsity teams in their Senior Year. The "Basketball Bop" went off—as a huge success and raised funds for the Sophomore class.

Teacher Activity

English teachers toast Christmas at the City Club.

Supt. Glen Haidt, Prin., Carl Blood, and Mr. Roy Wallace of Durand visit the Atomic Energy Plant in Monroe.

Mr. Blood hands out the tickets to the Seniors at Walled Lake.

Freshmen begin to climb

How long and crowded the halls seemed to be when we started our first week at Owosso High School. The stares of the Seniors added additional uncomfortableness to our new surroundings, but it didn't take us long to adjust ourselves to the rough schedule of high school life. Our "D. J. Dance" gave us a chance to become acquainted with the other students and oriented us to high school social activities.

Activities

Activities play an important part in the social world of the Owosso High student. The metronome keeps the activities in rhythm with the student's initiative and imagination. The choir represents only one of the many activities that are offered to everybody. As the reader can readily see, these organizations attract many participants.

Step to the Rhythm

Drum Major: Stan Soffin

Majorettes: S. Seward, N. Baumhardt, R. Sal-leck

There is nothing like a "sharp" band to add zest and life to any school event. During the football season, the Marching Band provides not only peppy rhythm but also colorful pageantry at each game. The Concert Band plays for the pep assemblies; the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Concerts; and the Spring Band Festivals. It is the proud possessor of many trophies from the State Fair, the Holland Tulip Festival, the Central Michigan Band Day, and the State Contest.

Judy Hatt and Diana Morrissey were student directors under the supervision of Mrs. Parks.

These Hands Keep the Clock Ticking.

When emergencies arise, the staff members of O.H.S. appreciate these helpful students.

These men are responsible for bringing our rural students to school: Mr. Sanderson, Supt. of Drivers; D. Plume, F. Maurer, P. Wildy, D. Mack, D. Bessler, W. Jones, G. Elwell, B. Jones, L. Abrams, absent, L. Lecureaux.

The Day Custodians are J. Boyd and W. Hinze.

The Night Custodians are L. Grequoricka and H. Huntoon.

Service is their motto.

Mrs. John Miller sells books to Diane Kurrle and Judy Coleman.

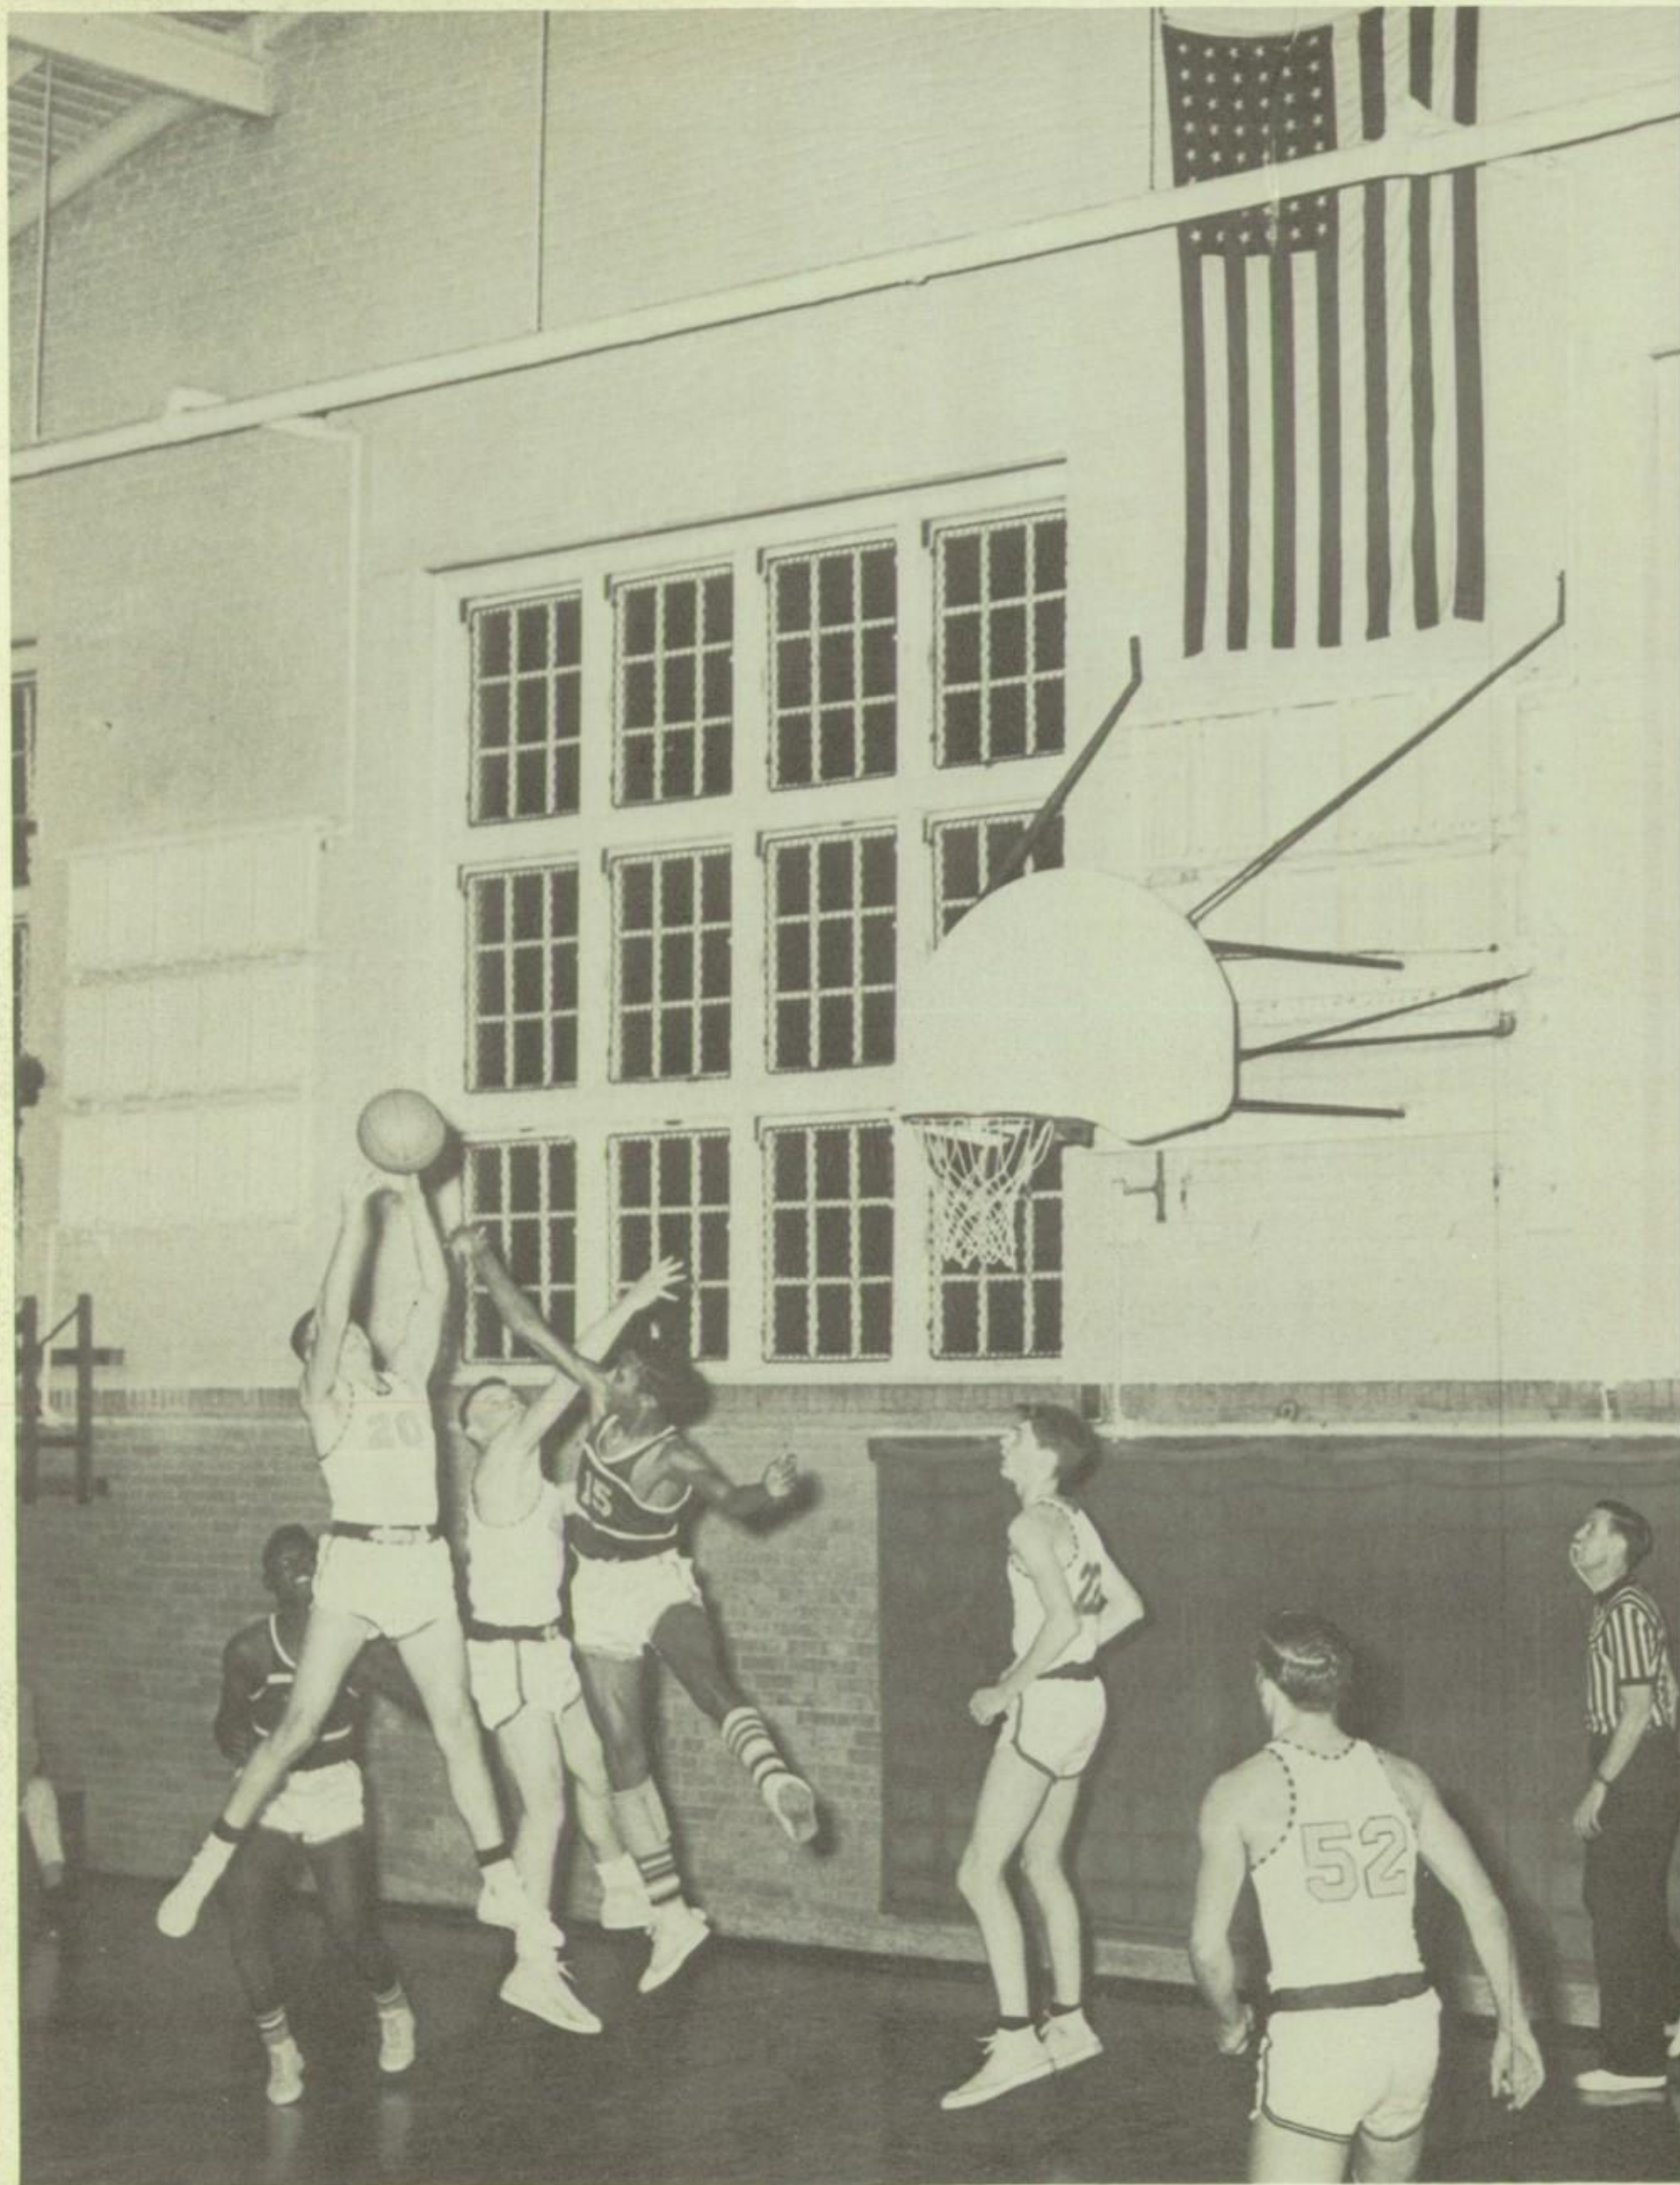

Behind any smooth running business, many unseen people are at work. At the beginning of each semester, Mrs. Miller can be found in the book store buying and selling text books. She appraises the returned books and issues a credit slip. Everyday Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Reynolds, aided by students, prepare food for over a hundred fifty pupils. Mr. Wightman and his library staff check out books to the students, handle the book fines, and repair the books.

Beverly Moores and Heilwig Berger are served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Clark.

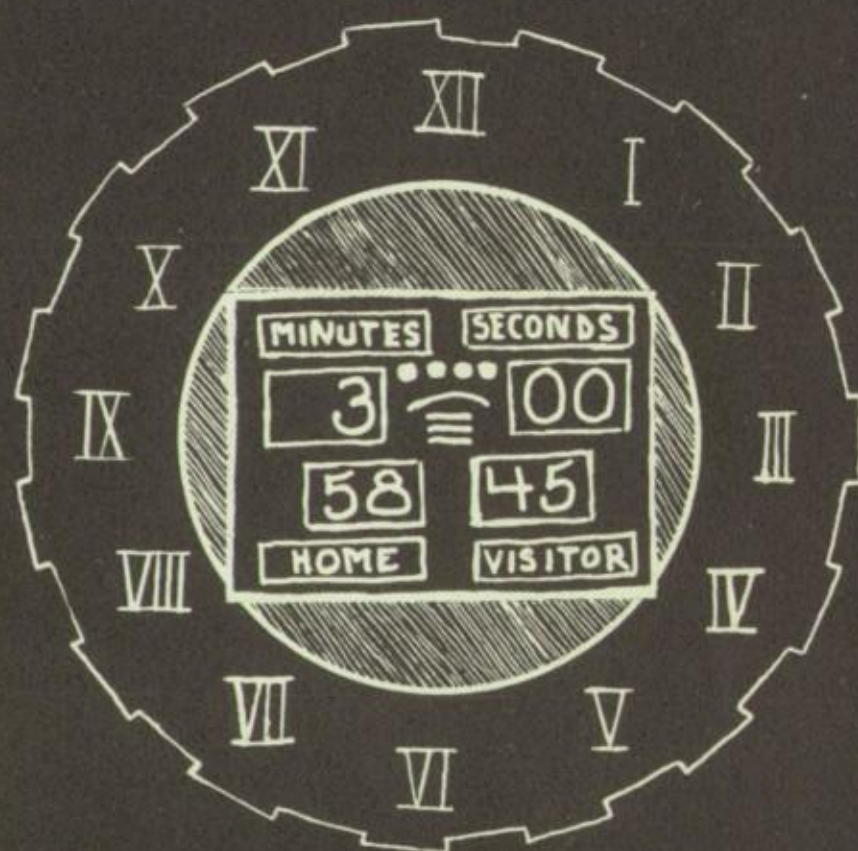

Sports

Sports have played an important part in boosting the morale of the student body. This year Owosso stands out as a school of undying spirit and of players determined to win. "Win, team, win," is just one of the enthusiastic cheers yelled by the cheerleaders and students to encourage the team to be victorious. There is nothing more exciting than watching the score add up to "VICTORY."

Varsity Season in Review

September 18: Flint Beecher vs Owosso—There. Jerry Bauer sparked our game with his touchdowns; Mike Hornus made a sixty-five yard run.

September 26: Lansing Eastern vs Owosso—Here. Mike Gorte provided a big thrill for the Owosso fans when he scored the only touchdown.

October 3: Lapeer vs Owosso—There. Mike Hornus scored four times in the first half behind the fine blocking of John Mackey and the fine signal calling of Jim Harkema.

October 10: Jackson vs Owosso—Here. Even though the team was defeated, all the fans agreed that the Trojans played a lot of good hard ball and never gave up.

October 17: Lansing Sexton vs Owosso—Here. Mike Gorte carried on when Mike Hornus was injured. Baker scored a touchdown when Jack St. Peters, John Mackey, and Bill Hahn blocked for him.

October 30: Alpena vs Owosso—There. Jim Harkema passed fifty-five yards to Ron Schneider for the big play of the game.

November 7: Lansing Everett vs Owosso—Here. Mike Gorte starred with his good offensive playing to assure the Trojans of their final winning season since 1954.

November 12: Bay City Handy vs Owosso—There. Owosso rolled to over four hundred yards with a tremendous team effort that resulted in the third best record in twenty-five years.
